POSSIBLE COMMUNITY OPIOID OVERDOSE ADMINISTRATION OF NALOXONE – HERE'S WHAT TO DO

YOU ARE WITNESS TO A POSSIBLE OVERDOSE

The person may have used drugs or medication and is showing the following signs:

No reaction to noise or pain

Slow, difficult, snoring-like or absent breathing

Constricted pupils

THE PERSON SEEMS UNCONSCIOUS

POSITION ON THE BACK allowing resuscitation maneuvers

OR

POSITION ON THE SIDE if there is vomiting, convulsions or irregular breathing

No reaction

1 TRY TO GET THEM TO RESPOND WITH VERBAL AND PHYSICAL STIMULI

YELL their name
SPEAK TO THEM
loudly

RUB the center of their chest (sternum) vigorously

No reaction

2 CALL OR HAVE SOMEONE CALL EMERGENCY SERVICES

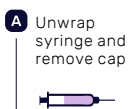

911

Administer naloxone even if you are unsure.
It has no effect if it is not an opioid overdose.

No reaction

3 INJECT A DOSE OF NALOXONE

A Unwrap syringe and remove cap

B Inject naloxone into thigh, shoulder or upper buttock muscle (at a 90° angle)

C Press the plunger all the way down until you hear a "click"

Naloxone can be injected through light clothing

No reaction

4 PERFORM RESUSCITATION MANEUVERS*

GIVE 2 CHEST COMPRESSIONS per second to a depth of 5 cm

* If you are trained in CPR, perform ventilation in addition to administering naloxone and performing chest compressions.

No reaction 3 minutes after the dose

5 INJECT ANOTHER DOSE OF NALOXONE

REPEAT STEPS 4 AND 5
as long as the person doesn't react

Out of naloxone ?
Continue resuscitation maneuvers until emergency services arrive

IF THE PERSON WAKES UP...

PLACE THEM ON THEIR SIDE: explain what has just happened and talk to them about the importance of being seen by a healthcare professional.

After an overdose, the risk of another overdose is high because naloxone only works for a short period of time.

TELL THEM THEY SHOULD NOT USE OPIOIDS FOR THE NEXT FEW HOURS to avoid another overdose.

STAY WITH THEM while waiting for emergency services.

The GOOD SAMARITAN DRUG OVERDOSE ACT protects both overdose witnesses and victims.

CAUTION
Safely dispose of equipment

• Ensure naloxone kits are stored properly before use. For more details, consult the INESSS checklist.
